P  STHUMANS

The Global Posthuman Network

Dear _____,

Welcome to the Global Posthuman Network!

We are a global platform dedicated to the posthuman paradigm shift. Our goal is to connect all the scholars, artists, scientists, researchers, human and post-human beings, who are envisioning our posthuman era.

Active since 2012, the Global Posthuman Network organizes: Conferences, Symposiums, Forums and Courses, as well as a Blog, a Vlog, and a Podcast, all year round in different countries, continents and platforms, with a committed Academic Board, and a visionary community of International Speakers and Contributors.

In the course of a decade of successful activity, supported by the main voices in the field of Posthuman Studies, we have hosted more than 100 speakers, held dozens of events in prestigious academic settings, as well as live online. Our networks are present in all continents.

We welcome You to the conversation: Thank you for Being Here!

Peace and Much Appreciation,
The Global Posthuman Network

About Us

Our Goal

The goal of the Global Posthuman Network is to encourage the posthuman community worldwide to express the multiple perspectives on the pathways of the posthuman in flexible and rigorous terms.

Our Projects

We conduct summits, symposiums, and conferences on the Posthuman, and run an online blog, course, and newsletter. We also run regional Posthuman Networks. More information as follows.

For Members

Members can propose projects, collaborations, affiliations; they can promote their work in our Newsletters, as well as in our News section and social media.

Our Activities & Projects

1. Seasonal Posthuman Summits at New York University (NYU), New York City, US

Founded in 2014, the NY Posthuman Research Group covers different areas of expertise surrounding philosophy and the posthuman, covering these through seasonal summits.

2. Biennial Global Symposiums at New York University (NYU), New York City, US

The Conference Series "Posthuman Global Symposiums", has been held at New York University since it was started in 2015; the Series has successfully reached its 4th edition

3. Blog, Vlog and Podcast "Posthumans"

Our blog is an open platform to discuss the Posthuman. Through our vlog and podcast, we interview leading voices in the field of Posthuman Studies, more specifically: philosophers, scholars, artists and scientists whose works revolve around the topic of the posthuman. Currently, we offer interviews in: English, Italian, Spanish.

4. Online Open Conferences and Debates

We began conducting a series of live digital forums in the midst of the coronavirus pandemic, as we believe that this is an important way to get our community involved globally - something that is much needed in this period of social distancing.

5. Online Course on the Philosophies of the Posthuman

This online course on the Philosophies of the Posthuman is conceived for anyone who is interested in the topic of the posthuman. In 6 lessons and 3 concepts, Professor Ferrando explains the main topics related to the posthuman turn.

Newsletter

About the Newsletter

The Global Posthuman Network publishes a bimonthly Newsletter to promote events, conferences, activities, books, movies, documentaries etc. directly related to the posthuman turn. The Newsletter has connected with over 1000 international members.

The Newsletter is currently divided into the following sections:

1. Conferences and Events
2. Call For Papers
3. Books
4. News related to the Global Posthuman Network and Blog Entries
5. Various and Related News

For Members

We invite all of our Members to promote their activities in the Newsletter. Please reach out to us at nyposthuman@gmail.com to do this.

World Posthuman Networks

We are committed to create a space for open dialogue, exchange and connection on a global and glocal scale. We are currently working with scholars, artists and scientists around the world to bring relational approaches, dialogues, visions and comprehension. We help organize seasonal regional meetings (currently done remotely), and every 2 years we hold global meetings at NYU. We have collaborated with organizations and scholars from all over the world. The results of this are the following regional platforms and networks.

World Society of Posthuman Studies

The World Society of Posthuman Studies was founded in 2018 at the XXIV World Congress of Philosophy, Peking University, China.

Worldwide Posthuman Networks

Our Latin-American, Chinese (Forum & Blog), Indian, Italian, Turkish, and Australasian Posthuman Networks each offer a platform for generative, critical and original reflections, collaborations and discussions on the posthuman that apply specifically to the their respective cultural contexts.

Our Policy

Dear Members,

Thanks for being part of the Global Posthuman Network.

The interest in the posthuman is growing exponentially. We are delighted to connect with so many people who are expressing interest in the posthuman paradigm shift.

We are also aware that most of us live in societies where discriminatory practices against other human and non-human beings are still common. We, as the Global Posthuman Network, are determined to change these patterns, as they do not allow for the flourishing of posthuman ways of existence.

Please be aware that by joining the Network you agree to the following policy:

If anyone involved in the Global Posthuman Network receives sustained allegations in relation to issues that go against the dignity of other human and non-human beings (such as: sexism, racism, ethnocentrism, ableism, speciesism etc.), we, the Global Posthuman Network, will disconnect our association from the person until such allegations are completely cleared.

This will serve as a statement that such behaviors are in no way associated with our posthuman views. In fact, posthumanism is about a dignified existence for everyone.

The person who receives such a letter of disassociation should not take it personally. Posthumanism goes well beyond our single lives, and none of us should undermine its credibility. In case such allegations prove unfounded, the person can request to join the Global Posthuman Network again.

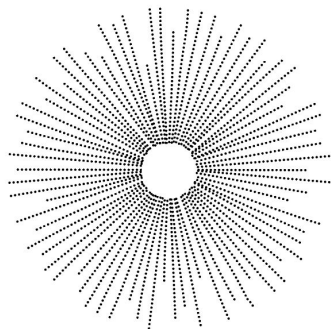

This policy is set to allow the Global Posthuman Network to be a safe and vibrant place of envisioning and manifesting dignified ways of existing.

As we grow as a global community, delicate issues may arise, so it is important to make sure that we face these events in serenity and clarity, by being honest, kind and just in our decisions and communications.

Thanks again for agreeing with this policy by being a Member of the Global Posthuman Network.

Thanks for making a Difference in this World!

Peace, Visions and Much Appreciation,
The Global Posthuman Network

Posthumans:
